Filing for Patents

Patents are granted for an invention which is new, involves an inventive step and has an industrial application. Applications may be made, in English, by any person either jointly with another or alone. The right to a patent belongs to the inventor(s) or their successors in title.

Under the International Convention applications claiming priority must be filed within 12 months of the earliest filing date in a Convention country. A certified copy of the basic application must be filed within 16 months of priority date of the Irish application. If in a language other than English, a translation must also be provided. For a European patent designating Ireland it is treated as a full-term patent. An application filed under the PCT is deemed to be an application for a European patent.

There is no substantive examination of either full or short term patents. Examination is carried out upon the request of the applicant. Patent applications must have a filing date, at least one claim and must not be deemed to be withdrawn for examination to be undertaken.

Patent applications are published after a period of 18 months beginning on the date of filing, or if priority is claimed, from the date of priority. The applicant can request the publication to be earlier. Any person may apply to the patent office for the revocation of a patent.
